November 2021

When was the last time you took time to just listen to the people around you? I have, and I've been amazed about the troubles they have shared: troubles in their personal lives, trouble in their families, trouble at their work, trouble in their church, and many other troubles.

Do you know that Jesus spoke to troubled disciples. One was about to betray Him. Another disciple would deny Him. Jesus spoke about leaving them. Even in the midst of all these troubles, Jesus gave peace to their troubled hearts. Our troubled world needs to listen to the Master. Jesus said, "Let not your heart be troubled." He said...

During times of great trouble, God's people get agitated and distressed. Jesus told them that for years they had trusted in God. They should not stop trusting. Keep on trusting in God even during tough times. Believe it or not, trouble provides an opportunity to trust the Lord.

The disciples were worried about the future. Jesus promised the disciples that He was going to provide dwelling places for His people in the heavenly world. There will be no shortage of space. God's people do not need to be troubled about their future. Jesus will take care of the future. Thomas was especially troubled about the direction of his life. He didn't know the way. Jesus told Thomas, "I am the way, the truth, and the life." Those three statements describe direction for living. Jesus is the way to God, the truth about God, and the life of God. So many are searching for their way today; Jesus is that way.

Philip expressed his heart when he asked Jesus to explain the nature of God to him. People do wonder about what God is like. Jesus assured Philip that the person who sees Him sees the Father. No one needs to worry about God as not caring or not understanding. Jesus explains God to us, and He is good.

Naturally the disciples worried about God's work. Would it count when Jesus left? Jesus said that the disciples would do "greater works." We can be a part of that work if we're willing. The Lord's work feeds our souls like nothing else.

Do you have a troubled heart? Listen to what Jesus is saying in John 14 and follow His directions for living out your life...

Thanks for your outpouring of love and support by the gift you shared during pastor appreciation. It is my joy and privilege to serve as your pastor. The blessing is mine to be your friend.

With Love,

Grady
